About Certificate of Origin

A certificate of origin (COO) is a document declaring in which country a commodity or good was manufactured. The certificate of origin contains information regarding the product, its destination, and the country of export. Required by many treaty agreements for cross-border trade, the COO is an important form because it can help determine whether certain goods are eligible for import, or whether goods are subject to duties.

The Certificate of Origin must be completed and signed by the exporter of the goods. Where the exporter is not the producer, the exporter may complete the Certificate basis:

- knowledge that the good originates;
- reasonable reliance on the producer's written representation that the good originates; or
- a completed and signed Certificate of Origin for the good voluntarily provided to the exporter by the producer.
